The Popular Vote. It is in vain that the Readjusters try to explain away the fact that at the late elections it was the casting vote of the negroes that elected so many delegates opposed to the McCorrocu settlement. To prove how accurate was our table of the results of the election for senators, we now give one showing the vote in each county of the State for members of the House of Delegates. It corroberates fully the statements made in that table. It is remarkable indeed bow nearly the popular vote for delegates approximates to that for senators in the matter of the classification of the members-elect as Conservative Debt-Payers, Conservative Rezidiusters, and Republicans. The totals are as they follow :

.58,644 77.070 7.307 ...147,115 Total vote for House of Delegates.....

Senator Thurman on the Situation. [Special to the Cincinnati Commercial.]

Washington, November 26 .- Senator Thurman, who arrived in the city this afternoon, is not disposed to be very communicative as to the political situation. When asked what he thought of the prospect for a long session, he replied bluntly that he hadn't the remotest idea. There is reason, though, why it should be at least as long as the long sessions usually are. There was no business done in the extra session, and there is a great deal of legislation now pending which ought to be got rid of.

In reply to the question whether h session would again come up, Senator Thurman only said : "I decline to express my opinion on that matter." "Was the defeat of the Democracy in Ohio due in whole or in part to mistakes committed in the extra session?" "Not at all. The Democrats did well in whites voting at the last election voted with Obio-better than they did in any other northern State. Louisiana. The dangerous illness of Lieutenant-Governor Wiltz, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Louisiana, opens up a some what alarming prospect to the Democrats of new Constitution and the finality of the choice of State officers to be made on Tuesday stand or fall together. But the Democrats are pled zed to the new Constitution, and even if they desired to defeat it at this stage of the canviss, it would be impossible to get the news conveyed in time to many districts of the State. To change their candidate for Governor is impossible for the same reason. Should, therefore, the ilness of Mr. Willz terminate fatally, his Republican opponent would be elected Governor. no matter what might be the number of votes he received. Under these circumstances, the painful tension of teeling with which the Democrats regard the progress of Mr. Wiltz's illness may be readily imagined.
